

Redemptive Community: Fellowships of the Heart

Requires a belief that the heart is good.

A person's glory is pursued, not their sin.

Can't be a substitute for God and what only He can provide

Requires personal intimacy with God.

As acknowledgement that we are in a battle and have an enemy that will oppose us.

It must be small.

It must be intimate.

It is a lifestyle where lives intersect and people live out their lives together. Pray, play, worship, eat, share and journey together. Intergenerational.

It can not be contained in a day, a time or a room.

Where everyone can offer what they have. Everyone needs to contribute and be a participant. No one's glory should be muted.

A safe and trusting place where deep places of the heart and soul can be touched.

It will be messy. Don't avoid it.

Change and disruption are necessary.

Must be missional. It is larger than its self.
